ALEX VITET DESIGN launches an innovative, first of it's kind state-of-the-art ecommerce website in the industry! Alex Vitet's 'Antelope' bath collection-1 is a very beautiful, highly desirable collection fitting for a sophisticated commercial or residential customer.

The ALEX VITET DESIGN website, www.alexvitetdesign.com is the first of it's kind in this industry. It is an e-commerce site for both the residential and commercial customer to handle orders on an international basis. It is very sophisticated in how it's programmed yet, is fast and easy to use. Alex's objective for the website is for it to have the most up-to-date information in the market since it will preview new items before the residential or commercial market is made aware. It will stay ahead and evolve as quick as each new item is added to the collection—in real time. This is what makes ALEX VITET DESIGN unique —great design, real time and offering it to customers directly—this is why it has been so well received in the market.

ALEX VITET DESIGN is a design-strategy oriented company with a strong focus on innovation, the latest manufacturing techniques and material experimentation to offer commercial clients and residential customers highly desirable, uniquely designed, superior products with exemplary personal service, worldwide.

'ANTELOPE' bath collection-1 is the first segment to be launched. It is a premiere collection that groups 55 essential items, and offers a wide potential of compositions. It is also American manufactured under the Alex's creative direction.

'ANTELOPE' is exclusively made in Corian, by Dupont™ which has been developed to offer a wide variety of compositions around four washbasin designs. Corian is an elegant, simplistic and durable product. It provides a new way to manage space, compose and accessorize with extensive freedom in design. The elements of this collection can be selected and mixed to achieve the ultimate bathroom vision. Washbasins, countertops, shelves, earth graphic panels, shower landing and boxes are selected by the buyer to achieve their personal style. The individual selection and mix of these items together create a unique composition. Once completed it automatically creates a dramatic, inviting and impressive environment for the distinguished owner of a home, restaurant, hotel, resort . . .

Within the 'ANTELOPE' collection is the decorative graphic panels which are based on true, hi-resolution, digital photographs of sandstone —which visually are doors opening to nature. In the bathroom they evoke a look and feel of serenity. These panels are made in two materials; Laminated Glass which and decorative interlayers digitally printed in full-color using patent-pending, and a high definition ink jet and PVB interlayer technology. The result is high-quality imagery and design textures in safety glass that has a strong visual impact. Design-thru-production process has a quick turnaround for any sizes ordered on demand. This digital technology increases design flexibility, customization potential, and image tone control. Also, finished glass is made with industry-proven PVB interlayers ranging in opacity from white to clear. A very unique and striking element to complement the rest of Alex's bath collection.

Alex will continue to add new items to the 'Antelope' collection. It is understandable this collection will evolve over time—with great design and passion.
